

PRISONER OPENS CELL DOOR

Carberry Robber Secures Freedom and Leaves No Clue

Carberry, April 16.—One of the men who broke into Williams & Bannister's store last week was captured at Glenboro Saturday and brought here. Last night he was placed in the new cell that has been built on the fire hall on account of being cold in the lockup. The prisoner succeeded in opening his cell with the poker and escaped, leaving no trace.

A PROGRESSIVE FIRM

Large crowds visited the handsome new store of the Douglas Book and Stationery Co. on Saturday afternoon and evening, where Irving's orchestra again furnished music for their entertainment, while they admired the magnificent display of fine stationery, books, chinaware, etc.

The Douglas Co. have now the best equipped and most up-to-date book and stationery stores between Toronto and the coast. Not even in Winnipeg, where there are book stores galore, is such a handsome display to be seen, or a better furnished store. The store throughout presents the appearance of a thrifty up-to-date business place and the arrangements are evidences of taste and elegance. The galleries, wherein the books are arranged for the convenient inspection of visitors, are a special feature. They run the entire length of the store, and are reached by a stairway at the rear. The china cabinets are another attraction, and are admired by many. The stores are equipped with cash carriers and are lighted throughout with arc lights. The stores truly present the appearance of a large city establishment.

Mr. Douglas will add fifty feet to the rear of the establishment, which he will furnish as a piano and organ warehouse, in which branch of business he has been most successful. The basement of the stores is used as a store-room and stock room. The firm have the largest stock of any store in Manitoba and the Northwest.

Four Daring Robberies Committed

The robbery was cool and determined, and one of many which during the past few weeks have been committed in local banks and on the streets. While the police believe they know the parties, the robbers managed to get out of the city and are believed to be in Minneapolis, whither they escaped last Friday. Three other daring robberies were also committed in Winnipeg last week. A man named Ernest Instry was relieved of $500 which he had drawn from the Bank of Hamilton. The second robbery was on Monday, the victim being Ald. Sandison, from whom $49 was taken while he was waiting in the Imperial Bank. Robbery No. 3 came last Tuesday, when a woman was relieved of $24 while waiting in the Imperial Bank. The three robberies were of the most daring character.

NUMBERING COMMENCING

Commissioners Place Order for House
Numerals and Will Start
Placing Them This Week

Following out the instructions of the city council, the commissioners will commence this week on the task of numbering the city streets. According to the plan they have decided to adopt the numbering will commence at Boundary avenue, the assign city limit, and number to the westward, and going the other way will be numbered from the river northward. There will be 100 numbers to the block, each way. The numbers will not be placed according to any size of lot, but each block divided into 100 parts and the relative position of house in the block shown by the number. The even numbers will be on the right side and the odd numbers on the left. Along such streets as Jasper, which several streets run into but do not cross, a special effort will be made to get the numbers as nearly opposite as possible. When a building is located on a corner it will get a number from each street.

The Edmonton Foundry has been given an order for the first batch of numbers, and will probably have some of them out today.

THE Y.M.C.A. IN EDMONTON

R. B. Chadwick, formerly secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Belleville, arrived in the city last week, and is now actively engaged in the thorough organization of the Edmonton branch. Yesterday afternoon in the First Baptist church he addressed a largely attended meeting of the young men of the city and gave them an idea of what was going to be done in Edmonton and what would be required in the work here. C. E. Race occupied the chair. Mr. Chadwick reviewed the past history of the Y. M. C. A., telling of its origin and commencement. At first it had been a strictly religious institution, but in 1848 an educational department had been added and later on a physical training department. In 1861 the Y. M. C. A. was first introduced into America at Montreal. The real object of the Y. M. C. A. was to develop and up-build man mentally, morally and physically. In the organization of a branch in the city there would have to be officers and a board of directors of prominent business men. Also a trained secretary. Then an association building would be required, costing about $50,000 or $75,000. There would be the religious department, under which social and evangelical meetings would be held. In the education department there would be a public reading room, reference library and classes of instruction in various branches of work. The physical department would include a gymnasium with apparatus, bowling alleys, and baths with hot and cold water. Also an athletic field would be procured. There would be an information department, an employment, and a relief department. In the association building there would be dormitories and sleeping apartments, which would be rented to members.

In answer to questions, Mr. Chadwick explained that an active member was one who was also a member of any Protestant church. These members would be allowed a vote in all matters concerning the association. An associate member was one who was not a member of any church. They would not be allowed to vote. A regular member was one who paid the full fee and was entitled to all the privileges. A limited member was one who paid a fee for certain privileges. Any young man could become a member of the Y. M. C. A. The reading room would be public.

Mr. Chadwick will take up his quarters in one of the houses on the lots owned by the association, May street, facing Howard.

SIMMONS' MAJORITY IN LETHBRIDGE

Following was the vote by polls in the Lethbridge election on Thursday:

	Sim. Sher. Keffler
Lethbridge	187 126 174
St. Marys	15 3 132
St. Marys	3 2 12
Raymond	78 1 16
Stirling	62 1 26
Taber	81 41 8
Rose Butte	8 13 5
Whites	4 1 18
Pol. Hole	11 0 1
Grassy Lake	12 7 2
South Little Bow	5 2 5
Lethbridge	187 174 136
St. Marys	15 132 3
St. Marys	8 12 2
North Little Bow	7 0 6
Pie Bow	5 0 1
Little Bow Ranch	5 2 5
Low Island	2 0 1
	490 386 229

Simmons' majority in 194 over Sherman and 241 over Keffler the Conservative; the latter loses his deposit. The total vote polled was 1195. The total vote in the general election was only 1130 and then the sugar factory was in operation and there were this time a number of citizens of Raymond and Stirling absent on an excursion to Salt Lake City. There are about 100 challenged votes yet to be counted, about half of which are for Simmons and half for Sherman, so that the majority will be changed but little when the final count is made.

PASTEURIZED MILK PLANT

Wisconsin Man Installing Machinery for Modern Dairy Outfit for This City

W. W. Prevey, of Wisconsin, and some local men have completed all arrangements for the inauguration of a pasteurized milk business in Edmonton. Mr. Prevey has his machinery on the way now and has leased the old creamery premises, down near the bridge, where he intends to put in his plant. He hopes to be delivering Pasteurized milk in the city by the first of May.

The pasteurizing process is the modern way of handling milk and cream and is accepted by the medical men as being the only guarantee against the transfer of contagious germs so dangerous to health, especially in the summer season. This process to describe it briefly, is a scientific sterilization of the products of the dairy, by which everything in the nature of a dangerous germ is killed, and the milk is delivered in a form that is absolutely safe at all times.

Similar to many other processes, regarding which there is more or less uncertainty to those not familiar with it, pasteurization is in itself a comparatively simple process.

Stripped of all technical terms, it is simply a process of heating the substance to be pasteurized to a temperature that will destroy the prevalent disease germs contained in it, and again cooling it in order to prevent the spores from germinating. The difficulty connected with the process lies in accomplishing this result without injuring the substance pasteurized, or changing its consistency, and performing the work in the most convenient, economical, thorough, and satisfactory manner. There are perhaps no substances so susceptible to all forms of bacteria that form a part of the food commonly used by the human family as milk and cream. Few people understand that the rapid decay, or what is commonly called, in its first appearance "souring," is caused by the presence of bacteria. Milk or cream can be "kept" on ice, but the process of decomposition is only arrested, the cause is not destroyed.

After having been pasteurized milk or cream can be held for a considerable time without the aid of ice or any special care, except that it should not be exposed to the air. With this process time and distance are no longer a vital consideration in marketing milk or cream, and loss by sour milk should no longer be experienced.

Mr. Prevey has had years of experience in the dairy business in Wisconsin, essentially a dairy state, and he comes to Edmonton with a thorough knowledge of the business in which he intends to engage. He has made contracts with farmers for the supply of milk to the pasteurizing plant, and he hopes to be able to handle a large part of the business of the city in a very short time. He will put on four wagons to start with, and proposes to cover every route both here and in Strathcona.

EXPLORER CUTS WAGON TRAIL

Athabasca Landing, April 14.—Mr. John B. McDougall has just returned to the Landing after a long and arduous ride after Mr. A. Livingstone, the engineer gone into the Peace River country. Mr. A. Livingstone arrived at the Landing too late to proceed in his journey on the ice, having no alternative but to wait for open water, or to cut his road up to the portage, there crossing the river on rafts. Mr. McDougall reports that the party had a hard time indeed but have with great energy completed a fine wagon road to Mocine portage. This will open up the country and we are told that there is indeed some fine land to be had there. Indeed some of the party had safely crossed with Mr. McDougall had delivered his mail and started on his return trip.

Mr. Livingstone was ably seconded in his strenuous work by Capt. Coady.

RIVER MEN ARE BUSY

Immense Drive of Saw Logs Coming Down the Saskatchewan to be Milled Here

The log drive from up the Saskatchewan, which will this year be the largest in history, has been started down the river, and with anything like favorable conditions should commence to reach the city within three weeks, or not later than a month. The first logs to reach the city will be those of the Fraser drive, which were cut at White Whale Creek and were first in the water. J. A. L. McDougall of this city is handling the drive and has 16 men working. There are 20,000 logs in the drive.

The Walters logs are being put into the river farther up, at Buck Creek, and will follow the Fraser logs down. The Walters cut this year will total 200,000 logs, which will mill up to nearly 14,000,000 feet. The camps are scattered from 35 miles up the river to 150 miles up.

The Clark logs, which are a comparatively small cut, to be used for building the mill which is to be constructed near the Edmonton-Strathcona bridge, will be the last to reach the city. It will probably be all done in June before the logs are all down. In the meantime the camps are breaking up and the lumber men are coming into the city from all points up the river.

BRIDGE REPAIRED AT FORT

If the hopes of the local officials of the C.N.R. are realized, traffic will be resumed over the Fort bridge this evening and the eastern express will leave from the Edmonton depot for Winnipeg.

The construction department has been doing some tall hustling to get the bridge in shape. During the past few days there have been 230 men working on and about the bridge. The steel structure has been completed to the third pier on the east side, spanning the entire water stretch, and the trestle between the pier and the river bank has been rebuilt.

The delay at the bridge has caused quite an extensive freight blockade which it will take the company some few days to clear up. Destined for Edmonton there are 25 cars of through freight side-tracked at the Port, and in Edmonton for shipment eastward there are, including coal, 200 cars of local freight for points between the city and Battleford.

PONOKA PEOPLE INDIGNANT
Ponoka, April 14.—Friday night about 8.30 p.m. a mysterious fire broke out in the post office, and had it not been for the early hour, when the streets are busy, would have undoubtedly destroyed half the town.

To set fire to the building was most certainly the aim of the culprit, as a bundle of papers, saturated with oil, was found in the letter box, where the fire originated. The flames were seen to be burning out about four feet in height, and the alarm was given, and willing workers applied a copious supply of water. The fire brigade, who had put in a busy afternoon's practice, were on the scene in less than ten minutes, and were heartily congratulated upon their work, the fire being got under control soon after their arrival.

The greatest indignation is being felt by the citizens that such a disastrous work could be done. The building standing in close proximity to Alger's fine store, would have wrought the greatest havoc in the principal part of the town, as all the buildings adjoin one another and are nearly all wood.

Ponoka is certainly gaining a name for herself, as for some time past complaints are to hand of mischievous work being done during the night and every effort is being put forth to have the guilty parties brought to justice. By C. D. Alger's prompt action, all the mail was saved, and the damage done the building is covered by insurance.

Whatever be the foundation for the rumors that are going the round, that a branch line is to go west from Ponoka, it certainly is having a good effect in the taking up of land. A large number are filling at the land office, and some deals have been carried through at handsome figures. One thing is certain, railway or no railway, there is no mistake as the land around Ponoka and the Blindman Valley is certainly of the finest.

Our two local creameries, Earlville and Ponoka, are now working at full pressure, and gratifying outputs are reported. W. A. Brodie has taken on nine more hands this year than last year, and expects to employ more ere the season is well begun. Apparently the local farmers are pinning their faith to the creameries and good dairy cows are in demand, as much as sixty dollars being paid for good cows at a sale the other day. Never was the community so contented as at present, and all are busy seeding, the reports going that almost double the acreage will be under crop this year. Two cars of 170 bags were shipped on Thursday, and the prices obtained are certainly satisfactory.

MR. MONK'S IDEA OF A SETTLEMENT

Mr. P. D. Monk, Conservative member for Jacques Cartier, introduced a resolution in the Federal House a few days since urging the government to make some substantial recognition of the services of the Penan rail veterans. The resolution in itself was splendidly vague, but in his address in support Mr. Monk outlined the proposal that this recognition should take the form of grants of western land and gave expression to a somewhat curious notion of a settlement policy for the Northwest. The influx of immigrants appears to trouble the gentleman from Jacques Cartier and he said in this connection:

"If we turn to the report of the Department of the Interior, which shows how our territory in the Northwest is being settled, we find that at this moment those who are availing themselves of the extensive and favorable conditions as to settlement are mostly foreigners. Whether the propaganda, the advertisement of the extreme advantage in settling our Northwest has been carried on more actively outside the country than inside, or whether it is that the inhabitants of the older provinces are satisfied with their lot and care little for going up to settle in the Northwest, the fact remains that these lands which we are disposing of are falling largely into the hands of foreign immigrants. Let me give the figures for 1902, 1903 and 1904, the last years of which we have complete returns. These are the three last years of which we have record. In 1902 we had 14,672 immigrants taking up homestead entries in the Northwest. In 1903 the whole of the homestead entries in the Northwest amounted to 31,383. The last year of which we have record is 1904, in which there were 36,073 homestead entries. Now, these 36,073 homesteaders, representing, according to this report, for 1904, 68,381 souls, what proportion was Canadian? The larger number, from the province of Ontario, from which there were 3,692 homesteaders; from the province of Quebec only 429; from the province of Nova Scotia 131; from New Brunswick, 102; from Prince Edward Island, 87; from Manitoba, 753; from the Northwest Territories, 482; from British Columbia, 69. So that the immense majority of these homestead entries during those years to which I am now referring, the last of which we have record, were made by foreigners coming in and taking up these lands. In fact, out of 26,000 there were probably 22,000 foreigners who availed themselves of the favorable conditions offered to immigrants coming in and taking up our lands, getting land for nothing in the Northwest."

In outlining his proposal for grants to the veterans, Mr. Monk said:

"Script might be given to them, quarter sections might be given without conditions and they would do with them what they saw fit, or conditions might be imposed upon them which would enable them to get the land to which they were entitled. I would not ensure their own presence on the lands to be settled—because most of them have reached an age when it is to a certain extent impossible for them to go themselves and settle these lands—to delegate the execution of the restrictions upon them for the settlement and for the final patenting of these lots to members of their own families. They might in that way be benefited, the settlement of some million and a half or two million acres of land by our own people would be assured, and you would create what I think is necessary—a warm interest among our own people in the settlement of these lands, you would give them an idea what these lands are worth, and at the same time fulfill the object which I had in view when I gave notice of this motion, and which is to acknowledge the services rendered by this large and influential class of people who represent our veteran volunteers."

The theory Mr. Monk apparently wished to appear to propound was that the vacant lands of the Northwest would be settled not by immigrants from other countries, but by transplanted Canadians, but the theory which Mr. Monk actually propounded was an entirely different proposition.

Stripped of its beclouding language, the proposal of Mr. Monk is that instead of permitting this vacant land to be settled by immigrants, that, first, each veteran be given a free quarter section without homestead duties, or, second, that he be given a quarter section provided some relative will do the homestead duties. These alternative proposals differ in form only, not in substance. The effect of either would be to transfer the possession of the land to a non-resident either on conditions which placed no obligation on him to bring such land into use or on conditions which could not and would not induce his continuous devotion to production. Under the "non-resident homesteading" plan of Mr. Monk the use of the land granted to the non-resident veteran would depend on the filial affection of a son who worked such land for the benefit of his father, or the profit a relative might hope to make by farming the land on "shares." The children of the veterans are to be supposed to be ordinarily attached to their parents, but the conditions of pioneer life demand the devotion of a settler's time and energy strictly to his own welfare for many years, while farming in the West is not yet profitable enough to induce men to work farms "on shares." The consequences of this plan would therefore be in the great majority of cases that when the homestead duties were done and the patent secured the land would be permitted to lapse into unproductive wastes until the owner might be pleased to sell it.

The only guarantee that land shall be developed and devoted continuously to production is the actual presence of the settler on the land, and his necessity of making a living from the land. The weakness of Mr. Monk's plan is that it does not require the former and in consequence does not impose the latter condition. In failing to do so it amounts simply to a proposal to enable a large number of eastern Canadians to tie up from development and usefulness a large amount of the most fertile land in America until such time as they may consider the price available for such land satisfactory. In the meantime the country would lose the wealth which might be created by its cultivation and the actual farmer would eventually begin to develop the land under the financial handicap of the price he must pay for the land.

A free quarter section is the cheapest means by which Canada can secure an actual western settler, but it is the most expensive kind of present which can be made to a non-resident.

IMPORTATION OF B. C. HORSES

The Strathcona correspondent of the Bulletin reports the importation of a car load of horses from British Columbia. In this connection it is in the public interest to call attention to the serious epidemic of glanders which a few months ago affected many districts in that province. The disease is said to have been introduced by horses imported from Washington State, and thence it spread to many other districts and eventually reached Vancouver. A large number of animals claimed to be affected were shot in each district. Vancouver horse-owners suffering especially severely in this manner. Under the circumstances it would be well for both dealers and purchasers and for the trade generally to have horses imported from the Pacific Province subjected to a rigid examination by veterinarians.

SELLING IRRIGATED LANDS

(Calgary Eye-Opener)
There is a letter enclosed to us in a communication from a friend in Iowa. It is from the Canadian Pacific Irrigation Colonization Company, headquarters at Calgary. It sounds all right about irrigating winter wheat, however, we have been informed by the best posted agriculturists in this country that irrigation applied to winter wheat is impracticable. Besides when there is plenty of water in the Bow, no one needs irrigation; and when it is dry enough to require irrigation, the Bow river and other streams are notoriously short of water also.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY IRRIGATED LANDS

Dear Sir:—Your name has been handed us with the request that we mail you literature concerning our great irrigation project. We assure you that all the claims and representations made in our literature are conservative. We are offering for sale (all things considered) the cheapest irrigated lands on the continent and land that will double in value the day you get it under a good state of cultivation. Our prices for irrigated lands are from $3.00 to $25.00 per acre, depending chiefly upon the distance from railroad. The non-irrigated lands sell from $12.00 to $15.00 per acre. Maintenance charge of water tax 50 cents per acre per annum. Terms: 1-4 cash and the balance in five equal annual payments. Deferred payments at six per cent interest.

You ask, "Why do you offer such land so near the railway, with water right so secure, maintenance charge so low, and at such a low price?" Our answer is that this land and irrigation project belongs to a Great Railway and not to land speculators. This great railway company is anxious to build up an intense agricultural community. Our purpose reaches away beyond selling you a ticket or a tract of land. We want to sell you a tract of land that will produce great crops and make you independent in a few years. When you become a large producer on the line of our road, you and your friends will buy many tickets and need our services as a "common carrier." We shall share your prosperity.

You live a long distance from our lands and it is difficult at "long range" for you to get any definite idea of what you could do with your money. We desire to suggest a simple practical method whereby you may be able to get before you a "definite proposition."

Our suggestion is this: That you will kindly fill out and return to us the enclosed blank in enclosed addressed envelope, thus giving us a somewhat definite conception of a tract of land that would suit you. Then we will select a tract from our 110,000 acres, which we believe will meet your requirements, and describe it. We quote you a price and terms, and thus give you a very definite idea of what we have to offer.

By this means you can decide in the quiet of your own home whether or not it is "worth while" to investigate further this land and country which has appealed to the keen business sense of thousands upon thousands of you fellow citizens. If it appeals to you, you may come and see for yourself, or if you have any acquaintance or friend here in whose judgement you have confidence, you can have him inspect the particular tract of land and report direct to you.

Our only desire is to get clearly and definitely before you the facts. We are frank to say we want you in this country of great achievement and still greater promise. We offer the greatest opportunity for farm land investment on the continent and you cannot afford to buy land any other place without first investigating our irrigated lands. Assuming you of our appreciation of any interest you may manifest, and reading assured that you will avail yourself of this simple way of learning more about our lands, we will await your wishes.

Yours very truly,
Canadian Pacific Irrigation Colonization Co.

The Canadian Pacific Irrigation Colonization Company, an American outfit, gets these lands from the C.P.R. company for $5 per acre, has the use and prestige of the five million dollar ditch and sells the land for $16, $18 $20 and $25 per acre.

Of course the C. P. R. stockholders participate in the $5 an acre sale, but do they get a look-in on the huge profits represented by the difference between $5 and say $20? What we propose to find out is, if there are any "extra" parties in on this snap who shouldn't be. That the C.P.R. would build a five-million-dollar ditch and sell the irrigable land adjacent thereto for $5 to a bunch of American financiers, who promptly resell it for $20 an acre, using C.P.R. buildings for local offices and getting special rates for prospective purchasers—that the C. P. R. would be guilty of such astonishing benevolence towards a private Yankee corporation makes us close one eye in thoughtful contemplation. As a matter of fact, we refuse to believe in C.P.R. benevolence.

MAYOR ELLIS GETS DAMAGES

Ottawa, Apr. 14.—At the assizes before Judge Teetzel and a jury ex-Alderman Black of Ottawa was found guilty of libelling Mayor Ellis in a letter to the press. Mayor Ellis got $10,000 damages and costs. This is an outcome of the last civic election in which a dispute arose over the change of a by-law by the mayor in taking over the civic plant from the Consumers. The mayor admitted the charge but denied the motives and the effect as stated in Black's letter. One of the jury men admitted that Alderman Brown had spoken to him about the case at a late hour.

MOUNTED POLICE WILL REMAIN

Ottawa, Apr. 14.—Controller Whyte of the North West Mounted Police has left for Saskatchewan and Alberta to consolidate the arrangement for the provincial authorities for the maintenance of the Mounted Police. The police will be continued as a Federal force, the expense discharged by the Dominion and the provinces.

Canada and the United States have agreed to hold again a joint conference in regard to fisheries along the international boundary. The question of close seasons and limited subjects will come up for consideration.

Dispute Over a Game of Cards Results Fatally in Port Arthur

Port Arthur, April 14.—Neal Musolino, an Italian, was shot fatally with a revolver in the hands of Mike Casarotano to-night at Port Arthur. The men were engaged in a game of cards when over some dispute Casarotano jumped up from the table and pulling a revolver fired three shots at Musolino, striking him in the abdomen, shoulder and side. Casarotano made his escape.

AN ALBERTAN TALKS OF THE WEST

Mr. Norman Ross, of Breckinridge, P. E. I., writes the Bulletin as follows: Editor Bulletin—Mr. McKinley, of Edmonton, who has been absent from here about a quarter of a century has been energetically giving a series of lectures on the possibilities and resources of the north-west, all over the island. Being well known and respected on the island his impressions are firmly planted and as a result a large number of the cream of our country are going west. Mr. McKinley taught school for seven years on this island and was even a newspaper agent. His circle of friends is large and the result of his labor is effective.

"NORMAN ROSS." Mr. Ross encloses a clipping from the Prince Edward Island Pioneer which contains the following synopsis of a lecture delivered by Mr. McKinley: "I am really pleased to meet so many of the people of this community. Some of my happiest days were spent here. I lived five years at this point about a quarter of a century ago. That will appear a very long time in the future, but seems in the past a very short period. The improvement at the village is great, but I wish to remind you that the improvement in the surrounding country is greater. At my time it was mostly all dense woods. Today it is converted into beautiful fields. My advice to all possessors of such splendid farms is to remain on them. There are two classes I desire to draw the attention of; first those who have their lands mortgaged, the other those who have no land at all. "I would never say anything disparaging of my native land, this 'high little island' which yields so much to the square mile, but I want to point out that it took bone, sweat and energy to do all this. There is a great difference in pioneering in Alberta and Prince Edward Island in early days; the various difficulties and hardships our forefathers endured are not known in the north-west. Imagine our progenitors entirely unacquainted with the feeling of trees nobly and stalwartly swinging their first new axe to clear a place for a cabin to shelter the mother and group of children. Under these unromantic obstacles seemingly to us now, could not have been achieved unless supported by strong constitutions and undiminished energy inherited from the Celtic race. The trees were felled into sections, then rolled into heaps and burnt; then the new land was hoed by hand covering grain or roots with earth dug between roots and stumps. In the course of seven years the stumps would be rotten enough to be removed when the plow would be used. In the early days there were no roads but the 'blazes' on the trees to guide the traveller in the dense forests. The lack of that indefatigable man was the only accessible means of transportation. We cannot give enough praise and credit to those noble pioneers of Prince Edward Island. "Climate is the most essential thing to be considered in a new country. After twenty-three years' residence in Edmonton I claim I should be in a position to speak of it authoritatively. I must say I found it good. The winter sets in about November 1 with a fall of three or four inches of snow, and invariably the weather is fine and pleasant till New Year and then it becomes cold for a few days. The snow disappears about the last of March and seeding begins from the 1st to the 15th of April. The soil goes into the ground about two to four feet, and as it comes out of this ground considerable moisture comes out of the soil. Haymaking begins about the 25th of July. Hay is chiefly made on the prairie which is very nutritious and good for stock, but timothy is cultivated with considerable success. Harvesting begins about the 23rd of August but in some exceptional cases earlier, such as fall wheat. "Husbandry transportation was the only drawback of that great country, but, thanks to our far-seeing statesmen, who have recognized the absolute need of opening the country, two great transcontinental railways are now assured. "Regarding markets it is generally considered that when the proposed railways touch the Pacific, steamers will be placed on a route to the Orient, and the treaty which has recently been concluded with Japan will be the means of opening up a market for Canadian produce at a good figure. "In conclusion the speaker went into details describing certain localities that he considered would be all right for settlement. He then gave a glowing account of the prospects for Alberta."

SERVICES ON EASTER SUNDAY

GRACE METHODIST—
Rev. T. C. Buchanan occupied the pulpit at yesterday's services and special Easter music was furnished by the male quartette.

MCDONOUGH CHURCH—

The pastor, Rev. Mr. Heustis, preached both morning and evening, and special music was rendered by the choir. In the afternoon A. C. Rice, of the College, addressed the children on the origin and customs of Easter day.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN—

Rev. R. Burgess preached at both services, and special music was rendered by the choir both morning and evening.

QUEEN'S AVE.—

A children's Easter service was provided in the morning by Rev. Mr. Myers, of Calgary, who also preached at night. Excellent music by the choir was also rendered.

FIRST BAPTIST—

Pastor McDonald preached in the morning on the subject "Voices of Spring," and in the evening on "The Great Guarantee." The choir was assisted by the children of the Sabbath school, and rendered special Easter hymns. The anthem was "As It Began to Dawn."

ALL SAINTS—

Celebration of Holy Communion was held at 8 a.m. At the morning and evening services special music was furnished by the choir. A special children's service was held in the afternoon.

ST. JOACHIM'S ROMAN CATHOLIC—

In the morning grand high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Grandin at 10:30. The vestments worn by Father Grandin were new, and made specially for the occasion. The singing of Father Grandin's mass by the choir was excellent. There was a large choir, under the leadership of C. Hall. The solo was well rendered. In the evening at 7 a special musical service was rendered by the choir. The Easter anthem, "Regina Coeli," and the solo "O Salutaris," by Mr. Hall, were appreciated. The sermon was preached by Rev. Father Rosenthal, and the choir sang the benediction hymn, "Tantum Ergo."

A MAN'S WAY

The name "Semi-Ready" is as distinctive a name as kodak. There is only one real Semi-Ready, though many people buy the ordinary ready-made garments under an impression tacitly thrown out by the seller that they are Semi-ready tailored. DAILY MARKET LETTER

Edmonton, Alta., April 16.
WHEAT—Minneapolis—No foreign markets today. Our market opened 5-8 lower than Saturday's close and ruled dull and quiet within a narrow range all day. The American visible supply decreased 57,000 bushels for last week. With the opening of navigation on the lakes there will be a rapid decrease of stocks at lake ports, and as farmers' deliveries will be light for some time to come we look for a material decrease in the visible supply in the next few weeks. We advise the purchase of wheat on further declines.

A VERDICT OF WILFUL MURDER

Wetaskiwin Jury Return Verdict of Wilful Murder Against Brock

The Wetaskiwin Times says: On Tuesday morning, Dr. R. D. Robertson, the coroner, summoned Messrs. E. E. Chandler, H. D. Ferris, H. R. Rix, H. L. Higgs, R. Armstrong, and L. D. Montgomery, whom he impanelled as a jury.

The remains were examined, when it was found that three shots had been fired, one passing through the thigh of the right leg, one entering the back just below the left shoulder blade, and passing through the body, the bullet being found under the skin, about two inches below the left nipple. The third shot passed through his hat and pierced his left ear. The shot through the body was sufficient to cause death. The jury then adjourned till Tuesday evening, when evidence was taken.

The first witness examined was Ed. Nunneley, who swore that about 8.30 Monday night he was standing on the sidewalk in front of the Queen's Hotel, when he heard two shots fired. A woman ran around the corner of the Merchants Bank and exclaimed, "He's killed" and then rushed back again. She was screaming. He walked over, and in the meantime another shot was fired. Just as he turned the corner she came to witness and said, "Catch Mr. Brock, he's killed a man." I looked around, but couldn't see him. No body was in sight. I went to the north end of the Merchants Bank and a man was lying off the sidewalk about six feet. He was lying on his stomach with his hands spread out as if he were trying to get up. I spoke to him and he turned his face up and looked at me. I put my arm around him to steady him, and spoke to him again. He turned and looked at me again. Just then a boy came up and I sent him for Sgt. Phillips. I left him then and went to the hotel to telephone for a doctor. When I came back Sgt. Phillips and the doctor were both there.

Emma Brock was the next witness and after being sworn said: "Last evening at 8.15 my niece and her husband called for me to go to the Salvation Army. We were late and walking fast. The sidewalk being narrow my niece stepped in front. We overtook Mr. Shockey at Miquelon's corner. Near the Merchants Bank Mr. Brock's arm reached over my shoulder and he said "You will, will you?" I knew his voice. I grabbed his hand, in which I saw a revolver, and tried to prevent him shooting. One shot was fired and the blaze seemed to go to Shockey's feet. Mr. Brock wrenched loose from me and I became rattled, and ran back in front of the Merchants Bank. After a while I ran back to the north side of the Merchants Bank and I saw Shockey lying on his stomach and Mr. Brock standing over him, and I saw the flash of the revolver directed towards his back. After a short time I went with my niece and nephew to my sister's home."

Mary Heberry corroborated the statement of Mr. Brock, as to the meeting of Shockey. He joined the party and began relating an account of a fight he had had the night before, and said he expected to have another one that night. Just then the witness heard the words, "You will, will you?" and Shockey grabbed Mrs. Heberry's arm and plunged forward with the words "He's killed me!" Witness then stated that she went on towards the army barracks, and upon looking back saw Brock standing over Shockey and also saw him shoot at him in the back.

Walter Medbury corroborated the statements of the previous two witnesses in detail.

Erby Bennett also gave evidence that he was in his room at the Queens hotel and heard a shot fired. He looked out of the window and saw the fire of a gun, and heard a man say, "I am murdered!"

This being all the evidence the coroner reviewed the facts of the case and the jury retired, but returned in ten minutes with the verdict:

"That Wm. E. Brock on the 9th day of April, in the town of Wetaskiwin, feloniously, wilfully and of his malice aforethought, kill and murder J. B. Shockey."

Brock was then arraigned before Inspector Worsley on the charge of murdering Shockey, but he had nothing to say. The inspector then committed him to stand his trial at the next sitting of the Wetaskiwin assizes. He was taken to Fort Saskatchewan on Wednesday to await trial.

LACROSSE

For the opening game of the season, the one on Good Friday in Strathcona, was well attended, and was a very fair exhibition. Strathcona team is made up of nearly the same old bunch, and they have the combination down fine. They will have a strong team this summer. But the defeat on Friday should not discourage the Edmonton boys. There are a number of new players in the bunch and the boys have not got used to each other yet. Shanks the flagman, is about the best that ever happened along, and he will be the strength of the team this summer. And the flags is just the place to have a strong man. The defense of the team after a little practice, will be all right. The home players need to watch their checks a little closer and stay with the game.

There was absolutely no need of the little piece of mix-up rough-house business between Anderson of the Edmonton team and Sammie Humeston, of Strathcona. There is no fun for the spectators in a rough game, and although the game on Friday was devoid of roughness, the little affair between Sammie and Anderson, which resulted in bloodshed, was a beginning, and to the credit of the referee Sammie was severely penalized. It is the only way to keep down the rough-house, and it is to be hoped that all rough playing will be similarly punished and the games played in a gentlemanly manner.

BASEBALL

The return match between the Alberta College nine and the Strathcona high school team was played on Saturday afternoon on the grounds on Second street and resulted in another victory for the college by 13 runs to 4. The college certainly have a crack nine, and although Strathcona have several good ones, they did not make the splendid showing they did a week ago on the other side.

The baseball grounds are now being put into shape for the season. They are being fenced and a grand stand will be built. On Saturday surveyors were on the grounds laying out a diamond, and the grounds will be levelled and put in first class condition. It is likely that the grounds will be used for lacrosse and football as well.

The Public Works Department and the Education Department of the Provincial Government played a game of ball on Good Friday, the Public Works Department pulling out ahead by 17 runs to 3.

The Edmonton Intermediate team will organize at the Pendennis hotel on Wednesday evening, and all interested in the intermediates are invited to be present. The intermediates will be a crack ninth season and they are deserving of good support.

THE CALGARY FAIR

The Calgary agricultural and industrial fair association are out with their price list already, which announces that $10,000 will be given away in special prizes and attractions on July 10th, 11th and 12th. Entries close on the 9th of July, but special entries can be made up until the 7th by paying twice the entry fee. The excursion rate during the fair will be $5.75 from Edmonton to Calgary and return. Tickets will be sold from the 9th to the 12th of July, good returning until the 16th. Special freight rates are offered by the C. P. R. to and from the fair, and race horses, where the owner assumes the risk, will be carried at half rates. —The ice has entirely disappeared from the Saskatchewan as far down as Fraser's mill, and the river is running freely around the bend at the mill. The small boys have already appeared with their fishing poles and around the bridge the fishers are numerous.

—Geo. E. Ellis, of the Edmonton High School staff, who was recently appointed school inspector by the provincial government for the Edmonton district, resigned his duties at the High School on Thursday afternoon. At the Literary Society meeting he was presented by the students of the High School with an address and two handsome paintings.

—Strathcona Plaindealer: A new road division of the C. & E. has been created recently. The Strathcona division extends from Strathcona to Wetaskiwin and east to Dayland. —Referring to "Jimmy" Fax who appears in Robertson's hall this evening the Scottish American of Nov. 8, 1935 said:—Mr. James Fax, the Toronto funny man, was on the program for three "dauners in the floor's fields of nonsense," but his pawky humor threw the audience in such convulsions of laughter that he had to appear seven times before the mirth-stricken people would articulate. "Hold, enough!"

—The cricket season opened on Friday with the usual match, married and single. Batting first the benedictus put together 120, Richardson and Jellett being the top scorers. At the commencement of the bachelors innings, wickets fell rapidly, but Reeves and Ducas played steadily and some good hitting by Adams helped the score to 100 for six wickets, when time was called leaving the match an even draw. A large number of spectators were present and everything points to a successful season.

—Aside from the fact that the concert on Wednesday evening is to be given in aid of the hospital, than which there could not be found a more worthy cause, the talent taking part is a guarantee that the program will be one of the best that has ever been put on in Edmonton. Edmonton has not supported its hospitals as might have been done, and many other towns in Alberta have done more for their hospitals than this city has. In Calgary the public hospital has been very liberally supported, and in Medicine Hat, a town with under 4000 of a population, the hospital is a magnificent building, fully financed.

—Strathcona Plaindealer: At the meeting of the Strathcona Board of Trade Monday night Dr. McIntyre resigned the presidency on account of his prospective parliamentary duties at Ottawa, which will require his absence from home for several months during the year. Mr. O. Bush, first vice-president, was elected by acclamation in his stead, and Mr. F. C. Jamieson to the vice-presidency. One of the chief matters up for discussion was the lack of accommodation for the immense number of incoming settlers, and a committee was appointed to devise means for making good the deficiency.

—The Bal Poudre, which is being given by the Daughters of the Empire to-morrow evening is in aid of the very worthy object of donating an ambulance to the city. The mayor has indicated his interest and the council have promised to do all in their power to see that it is fittingly maintained. The hall will open promptly at nine o'clock when the official set of the dances will be danced by the Daughters of the Empire and their escorts. The south door will be reserved for dancers and the north door for spectators, for whom the galleries have been engaged. The ladies are expected to wear the ordinary evening dress with powdered hair and the gentlemen the conventional evening dress.

—Geo. E. Ellis, of the High School staff, who has been appointed school inspector for the Edmonton district, by the Provincial Government, resigned his duties at the High School Thursday. He has been master of mathematics at the high school for three years, having come here from Ontario. He is a graduate of Queen's University, Kingston, with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. He is a gentleman of more than ordinary ability and has been popular with the students of the school. In June of last year he was married to Miss Green, of Edmonton. Mr. Ellis will have his headquarters in the meantime at Edmonton. His successor as mathematical master is Mr. J. M. Fyfe, of Peterborough, who comes to the city well recommended. HIGH SCHOOL LITERARY

(Contributed)

The last meeting of the High School Literary Society was held Thursday, April 12th, in All Saint's school room. The meeting opened as usual, with the reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the secretary, Clyde Sutherland. After these had been accepted, the following short program was given:—First, there was a piano solo, entitled Paul Reveres Ride, played by Miss Ada Brewster. It was well rendered. The second item was a reading by Mr. Calhoun. It was called "Courage to meet Life's duty" and contained much good advice. Following this was given an instrumental solo by Messrs. plowright and Johnston. It was highly appreciated.

The students of the high school had arranged for an address and a presentation of two handsome pictures to Mr. Ellis, who has been appointed school inspector. The address was read by Harry Bragg and in it was pointed out the many good qualities of Mr. Ellis. Mr. Ellis replied in a few well-chosen words to the effect that he had always looked on the students as a hard-working body and that he and the other members of the staff had always worked well together.

Following this Mr. Rae made a short address. The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.
